

Andrea Rebello, Soprano

Noted for her charming stage presence and vocal warmth, soprano Andrea Rebello holds a Bachelor of Fine Arts in Vocal Performance and a Bachelor of Education, specializing in vocal music. Equally at home on the theatrical stage or in recital, Ms. Rebello is an active performer of opera, operetta and musical theatre. Recent roles have included: Despina in Così Fan Tutte, Ännchen in Der Freischütz, Servilia in La Clemenza di Tito, Gretel in Hansel and Gretel, Laetitia in The Old Maid and the Thief, among others.

In keeping with her love of performing, Ms. Rebello is frequently hired to perform at gala events, charity balls and weddings. She entertains with an array of musical genres including opera, art song, operetta and musical theatre. She has been described as a performer whose 'stage presence commands attention, as does her resonant soprano voice which holds one spellbound'.

Ms. Rebello recently embarked on an exciting artistic adventure with visual artist Martin Rebello, in which their two art forms are combined to make up Muzart (www.muzartshows.com) - a powerful fusion of art and song in a single setting.

In addition to a life on the stage, Ms. Rebello also teaches singing lessons, piano lessons and music theory through her private music studio. She has adjudicated for the Davenport Festival of Music and for the Ontario Registered Music Teachers Association (ORMTA), and she is the acting music director at St. Clement Catholic Church in Etobicoke.
